GODFREY & KAHN

Our collaborative approach means you get the very best of our collective experience when navigating your employment law issues.

At Godfrey & Kahn, our labor and employment attorneys recognize and understand the multifaceted issues encompassing modern workforce management and leverage their collective experience to deliver practical solutions that meet your business needs effectively and efficiently.

Our first objective in serving you is to understand the employment issues facing your business. We start by listening to your objectives and then applying our knowledge of your industry and our prior experience negotiating and litigating similar employment law matters. Our aim is to craft practical, business-minded solutions that fit the size and scope of the challenges you face.

Our Legal Resource Training® program offers interactive, customized trainings to stop employment issues in their tracks.

We routinely assist clients with:

HR counseling

Policy and procedure development

Mergers and acquisitions due diligence

Restrictive covenant drafting and enforcement

Employment litigation

Employment agreements

Wage and hour assessments

Workplace training

Our team is prepared to assist you with labor and employment litigation matters as well as negotiations with government regulators or union representatives, should it be unavoidable. When labor and employment issues disrupt your business, we can help you find a solution that gets you back to work.

“Godfrey & Kahn always provides excellent service and advice. We are confident in their knowledge, delivery, and timeliness.”
